LEARNING & DEVELOPMENT

Approach & Learning Methodology

We do a Learning Need Assessment for the business in line with its strategic objectives to identify the skill gaps in the workforce. Learning initiatives are designed to address the unique needs of the organization.

Leadership Programs

Our Leadership programs are competency driven and designed to address three levels of leading- self, others, and organizations. We combine our leadership interventions with psychometric testing and deliver high-impact training through interactive workshops with case studies, role plays, simulation, discussions, and individual and group work for experiential learning. Coaching forms an integral part of our leadership development programs to bring about lasting change.

Soft Skills Training

We specialize in power skills training which has become integral to individual and organizational success. Our programs are focused on improving the productivity and engagement of employees.

COACHING

Our Coaching interventions are led by ICF & Marshall Goldsmith certified Coaches who have a rich repository of skills and experience. We combine the power of coaching with Psychometric Tests, 360-degree assessments and NLP, bringing breakthrough results for our clients. We undertake the following types of Coaching.

Executive Coaching

We help executives to remove their limiting beliefs and empower them to unleash their true potential.

Life Coaching

We free people from their insecurity and fears and enable them to live the life of their dreams.

Team Coaching

We provide team coaching to corporates to develop their teams.

CAREER MANAGEMENT SERVICES

We provide comprehensive career management services to individuals who feel stuck and are looking to scale up their careers to the next level. Our career management services help you to overcome limiting beliefs, unleash your true potential, achieve your life, and career goals, and lead a happy, healthy, and fulfilling life.

Campus to Corporate

This program is tailored for the university graduates to help them transition from the University to the Corporate world. The program consists of psychometric testing to identify their strength and aptitude, give them clarity of purpose, assist in their personality development, interview preparation, coaching and empowering them for success. We also facilitate internships and placements.
